2. Collection and storage of personal data plus the manner and purpose of its use.

We have your following contact data:

- First and family name, form of address or title
- Postal address
- Phone number
- If applicable, telefax number
- Email address
- Information on your position/function

We need this data so that we can identify and contact you under our Articles of Association for the purpose of our association, as well as for invoicing. This data collection and processing is in accordance with Article 6, Para. 1b of the DSGVO. This data is deleted as soon as it is no longer required for processing purposes unless, in accordance with Art. 6, Para.1c of the DSGVO, we are required to preserve and document for a longer period under tax and trade laws (German HGB, StGB, AO), or you have consented to retention exceeding this in accordance with Art. 6, Para. 1a DSGVO.

In addition, we are subject to various legal retention and documentation periods. This, for instance, follows the German Fiscal Code for up to 10 years. Thereafter, we retain data related to possible legal claims until the end of statutory periods of limitation. The periods of statutory limitation that are laid down, for example, in Sect. 195 etc. of the BGB – German Civil Code are generally for 3 years, but in certain cases may run for as long as 30 years. After the period of limitation, the respective data is routinely deleted, so long as it is not needed to fulfil or initiate a contract.

3. Transmission of data to third parties

The transmission of personal data to third parties only happens on your behalf, with your consent, for legally binding reasons, or in accordance with the Articles of Association of Hafen Hamburg Marketing e.V. The transmission of data to third parties to promote the aims of the Association, in line with Sect 2.1 of the Articles of Association, is permitted.

4. Transmission of data to third countries

Data transmission to third countries (countries outside the European Economic Area or EU) only occurs, where you have given us your consent, or this is otherwise legally permitted. In this case we take measures to ensure the protection of your data, e.g. through contractual agreements. We only transmit to recipients, who guarantee the protection of your data in accordance with Articles 44-49 of the DSGVO regulations for transmission to third countries.

5. Your legal rights

You have the right:

- In accordance with Art.7, Para.3 DSGVO to rescind your consent to us at any time. This results in us no longer being allowed to process data based on this consent.
- In accordance with Art.15 DSGVO, to demand information regarding your personal data processed by us. In particular, you can receive information on: processing aims, category of personal data, categories of recipients to whom your data was or will be disclosed, planned retention duration, existence of the right of correction, deletion, limitation to processing or objection, right to complain, origin of your data, where this was not carried out by us, as well as the existence of automated decision-making, including profiling and, if relevant, demand significant detailed information.
- In accordance with Art.16 DSGVO, to require immediate correction of inaccurate or incomplete personal data stored by us.
- In accordance with Art.17 DSGVO, to require the deletion of your personal data stored by us, insofar as the processing is not for the execution of the right to free speech and information, fulfilment of a legal obligation, reasons of public interest, or enforcement, exercise or defence of a legal claim.
- In accordance with Art.18 DSGVO, to demand the limitation of processing of your personal data, insofar as the correctness of the data is contested by you, the processing is unlawful, or you reject the deletion of data that we no longer need, but that you need for the enforcement, exercise or defence of a legal claim, or processing that you have objected to in accordance with Art. 21 DSGVO.
- In accordance with Art.20 DSGVO, to require receiving your personal data that you provided for us in a structured, current, machine-readable format, or its transmission to another responsible party and
- In accordance with Art.77 DSGVO, to complain to a supervisory body. Generally, this will be the supervisory body for your usual location, place of work, or our registered office.

6. Right of objection

Insofar as your personal data is being processed on the basis of legitimate interests in accordance with Art. 6, Para. 1f DSGVO, you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data in accordance with Art. 21 DSGVO, insofar as there is reason for this, given your particular situation.

Should you wish to exercise your right of objection, it is sufficient to send an email to datenschutz@hafen-hamburg.de. In your email, please inform us, which information you no longer want to receive from us, or whether you want to be completely removed from our databank.

7. Note on changes

These notes reflect the legal status as at 25 May 2018. We reserve the right to adjust our data privacy policy to changes in regulations or case law.
